

I think the consolidation of ownership of television, radio and other broadcast media is a bad trend, that is moving away from the intent that the airwaves are property of the people and are there for the public good. The most recent proposal dramatically increases consolidation, when it should be decreasing consolidation and allowing more diversity of ownership and voices. Please change your course and diversify, not consolidate.